

Lead Up to Easter

“The message of the resurrection is not simply, ‘don’t be afraid to die.’ Surely it is that. And all of us when we lose someone we love, or on our own day of dying will need the comfort of the resurrection. But I believe the message of Easter is not simply ‘don’t be afraid to die,’ but ‘don’t be afraid to live.’”

Join us as we explore how life is precious. The message of Easter is that out of death and destruction new life emerges. The Jesus story teaches us that life should be shared generously. We will also discover how resurrection isn’t just limited to the experience of Jesus or even to how we comprehend life after death, but in passing from death to life amid the chaos of the world in which we walk. The message of resurrection and of Easter is that we can live fully in this life, giving of ourselves, and risking it all for love’s sake.

Mark your calendars for Easter Week and join us, invite friends and neighbours who may not have a church of their own. Online church is an easy way to participate this year, from near or far.

Email Pastor Steve to learn more. Details, instructions to connect on zoom and worship guides will be available on the home page before the event.
